TOO MUCH JUNK?

Moving out or have bulk trash you need to get out of your unit? Remember, there is no bulk trash pick up currently at WAL and it cannot be left on the Loading Dock. You may keep the items in your unit until bulk pick up resumes or consider using a hauling service of your choosing. These types of companies will remove your bulk trash for a service fee you will pay to the company.

MY PACKAGE IS MISSING...

Patrol Services Officers no longer collect and deliver Amazon packages not given directly to the resident or placed in front of the resident's unit door. If you do not see your package from Amazon and you know it's arrived, you may track your order (<http://www.amazon.com/help/wheres-my-stuff>) or report a problem with an order (<https://www.amazon.com/gp/help/customer/display.html/?nodeId=201945500>).

YOUR RESPONSE MATTERS: CENSUS 2020

Health clinics. Fire departments. Schools. Even roads and highways. The Census can shape many different aspects of your community. Your response to the Census helps to:

- decide how billions of dollars in federal funding flow into states and communities each year.
- determines how many seats in Congress each state gets.
- fulfill a mandate given by the U.S. Constitution in Article 1, Section 2.

It's not too late to respond. Information shapes policy and funding for at least the next 10 years. Please complete the information online at my2020census.gov, by phone (844-330-2020) or by mail.

WHERE'S MY RIDE?

Waiting for an Uber, Lyft, taxi or friend to pick you up at your building? Please call 703-370-2674 (Patrol Services Communication Center) to announce the vehicle's arrival at least two hours in advance.

Doing so may speed up their entrance on property and curtail the lines that sometimes form at the Front Gate. If the pickup is not on file with Patrol Services, the Front Gate Officer will call your unit for pickup confirmation. If the officer is unable to reach you, the vehicle will be denied access onto the community, which may lead to rider fees and undue hardship.

FRONT AND BACK GATE REMINDERS

The Patrol Services Department sends a courtesy reminder of the Watergate at Landmark Rule relating to community access via the automatic Front and Back Gate Resident lanes. Vehicles displaying a valid WAL Resident parking decal that do NOT have a functioning VACD may NOT access the property through the automatic Front and Back Gate Resident lanes. Those vehicles may only access the property through the Front Gate Visitor lane. You can get a VACD for your vehicle at the Resident Services Office as Patrol Services Officers will report violations to the Management Office.
